Message from ICEAA – IEEE APWC 2026 Conference Chairs

On behalf of the organizers, we are pleased to invite you to the 2026 edition of ICEAA and IEEE APWC (ICEAA – IEEE APWC 2026), scheduled to take place in Toyama, Japan from 14th to 18th September 2026 – the first time this joint conference will be hosted in Asia. ICEAA – IEEE APWC 2026 is jointly sponsored by the Institute of Electronics, Information and Communication Engineers (IEICE) and Politecnico di Torino, with the technical co-sponsorships from IEEE Antennas and Propagation Society and International Union of Radio Science (URSI), and IOWN (Innovative Optical and Wireless Network) Global Forum. The purpose of the conference is to provide a platform for the presentation and exchange of cutting-edge research in electromagnetic field theory, antennas and propagation, and wireless communications.

While Toyama is compact in terms of its land, it is home to the 3,000-meter-high Tateyama Mountain Range (part of the Japan Northern Alps), as well as the 1,000-meter-deep Toyama Bay, which is recognized as a member of “The Most Beautiful Bays in the World Club.” In winter, a heavy snowfall on the Northern Alps provides abundant snowmelt that enriches the land and flows into Toyama Bay. This climate and distinct topography, featuring a 4,000-meter elevation difference, have produced majestic natural beauty, clear water, and rich agricultural and seafood products that have blessed this beautiful rural area for centuries.

The conference venue is located in the heart of Toyama City. Participants can enjoy nearby sightseeing attractions, including Toyama Castle Park, Fugan Canal Kansui Park, Fugan Canal Cruise, Toyama Prefectural Museum of Art & Design, and the Toyama Glass Art Museum. There are also shopping areas and restaurants offering local food and drinks.

Toyama City was selected by The New York Times as one of the “52 Places to Go in 2025.” The article highlights Toyama as a city where visitors can “Enjoy cultural wonders and culinary delights while skipping the crowds.” You can also experience Toyama’s history and culture through a visit of the UNESCO World Heritage Site, “The Historic Villages of Gokayama.” We also invite you to enjoy a ride on the scenic trolley train through eastern Toyama’s “Kurobe Gorge,” the deepest gorge in Japan. Toyama deserves several days to take in all that it has to offer. We hope you will fully enjoy Toyama’s exceptionally beautiful nature and historical experiences that are truly worth visiting. Only two hours by bullet train or one hour by airplane from Tokyo, and with easy access to Osaka and Nagoya, Toyama is located approximately in the center of Japan. With three daily direct domestic flights from Tokyo Haneda Airport to Toyama Kito Kito Airport – just a 20-minute drive from the venue – Toyama’s compactness makes it convenient for convention participants.

We would greatly appreciate your kind support and cooperation in line with the objectives and significance of the conferences. We are confident that, as a sponsor, you will gain greater visibility among the world’s leading researchers and practitioners in the field of electromagnetics, antennas and propagations, and wireless communications. If you have any questions or suggestions regarding the conference sponsorship, please feel free to contact us.

Don’t miss the opportunity to visit Toyama, Japan. We guarantee that you will fully enjoy your stay. We very much look forward to welcoming you to Toyama in September 2026.
